Font Packager 3.0 is a unique tool designed to allow you to pack dozens of fonts in one format. As the name indicates, this tool focuses on the packing of font files, while the extraction of the collected data has been removed from the program. The data packs created with this software can be viewed or downloaded from a dedicated site, which is free of charge. The program supports all major font formats such as TrueType, OpenType, and Type 1. Additionally, you are permitted to add custom font formats to the tool's database and download them directly from the site. What's more, you can extract the data created with Font Packager directly from the packed files. This way, you will be able to get rid of fonts that are not needed. Thanks to the data extraction feature, you will be able to compress the fonts you use the most and save some disk space. Another useful feature of this tool is represented by the ability to unpack the pack contents on a separate computer. You can get rid of the fonts that you don't use and avoid wasting computer disk space.
